

Eternity Invading Time. 11 minutes.

As a child in grade school, I would sometimes be given an assignment like, what did you do for your summer vacation. I would choose to take a unique approach. I would write a poem to express my thoughts. Now that I am a grown up man, my childhood behaviors I still understand. To that poetic end, this is the start of the message that I want to send.

In the darkness of the night.
There was no moon, yet God was shining bright.
Time itself did not exist.
Our perception of it was only a mist.

The time to go from A to B,
Was nothing short of instantaneously.
First and second was not a concept,
Until time, in it crept.

Thus instantly Jesus came along.
When he came he came strong.
With him creation he did bring.
Thus the universe began to sing.

God said shall I reveal my secrets to Abraham. I respond to that by saying here am I oh Lord. God said that he was looking for a man who would stand in the gap. I respond to that by saying teach me oh Lord. The rama word is when aint nobody saying this but me. If in fact aint nobody saying this but you, and it is true, then the question becomes this. Where did you get it from. The answer is I got it from God, a rama word from the Lord.

Sometimes we say that God exist outside of time. Yes. Yet, God revealed to me that eternity is the absence of time. In eternity time did not exist. Where there is no matter, there is no time. Einstein revealed this with, $E = M C$ squared. Thus God created time by creating matter. Before that, time did not exist. Speed can only exist if matter exist. Speed is the speed of matter within the confines of a univers. The big bang theory says that there was an infusion of matter into this universe. The black hole represents a different universe, with different laws of physics. Maybe laws of quantum physics, which is theroretical at best.

This tells us that in a universe without matter or time, the concept of first and second is meaningless. Thus, whether or not Jesus was God's first creation is meaningless, because everything happens at one time. Thus, there is no concept of sequential order.

Furthermore, Jesus was not created. He was begotten. He was God's only begotten Son. That is he came out of God's loins. The bible says in John 1 18, that Jesus was hidden in God. Jesus was begotten by nature, in the same way that Cain and Able were begotten of Adam and Eve. God does not create anything anymore. He has put laws of nature in effect, that reproduces what he has already created. Again Jesus was not created. He was begotten before time itself existed. Micah 5 2 says that Jesus was from everlasting. That is Jesus existed before time itself existed.

Thus he always was. He came out of the loins of God instantly. There was no time when God existed and Jesus did not exist.

Likewise, the laws of nature, that God put in effect in eternity say, that everything in nature reproduces after its own kind. Genesis 1 11 tells us that God said everything whose seed is in itself brings forth fruit after its own kind. Matthew 7 18 goes on to say, a good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Finally, James 3 12 goes on to say, the fig tree cannot bear olive berries. Thus, we can conclude that from the beginning of time until now, everything in nature reproduces after its own kind. Thus, a man cannot have a son who is literally a dog.

Likewise, God is a kind of thing. God himself would reproduce after his own kind. So, the question is does God reproduce. If so, we would have to conclude that the kind of thing that God would reproduce would be the same kind of thing that God himself is.

The bible says that God had a son. All of us are sons and daughters of God. Yet, we and angels are adopted sons of God. On the other hand Jesus is God's only begotten son. Begotten implies reproduction. Jesus came out of God's Loins instantaneously before time was. Jesus was God's son by nature not by adoption.

Hebrews 1 5 asks the question, For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

This is a retorical question. The obvious answer is, God did not say this to any of the angels. Jesus was the only one he said it to. Then the bible goes on to say that no other creations were in fact gods.

Deuteronomy 6 4 and Mark 12 29 says, that the cornerstone of all truth is the first commandment which is, Hear, O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord. Deuteronomy 4 5 states that there is non else beside this one God. Deuteronomy 32 39 tells us that there is no God with him. Isaiah 43 10 says that before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. James 2 19 says there is only one God. Finally, 1 Corinthians 8 4 to 7 says we know that there is none other God but one. Why doesn't every man know this.

The bible has an abundant number of scriptures that speak of Jehovah as God. All others who are not a part of nor associated with the one true God, are not gods at all. This is the heart of polytheism.

Finally, Isaiah 44 24 says, God created the universe by himself, with no help from anyone else. Then Genesis 1 26 says let us make man.

How can these things be? How can God say that He created the universe by himself, and then turn around and say, let us, make man? That is the very essence of this revelation of God's time, eternity and its relationship to the Godhead, or its relationship to the nature of Jesus. For, the bible says in Matthew 11 11 that, there has never been anyone greater than John the Baptist, yet, even the least of us in the kingdom of heaven, have the potential to be greater than John the Baptist. To that end I give God the glory for the words that he has placed in me, his servant.
